

Become an Expert Clinician and Effective Administrator With a Dual Degree

This flexible and affordable program provides candidates the opportunity to simultaneously earn a Doctor of Nursing Practice degree and an MS in Management with a concentration in Health Care Administration. Advanced practice registered nurses and nurse leaders will acquire the requisite skills to succeed in increasingly complex health care and business environments.

Hands-On Courses Guided by Seasoned Health Care Leaders

Doctorally prepared DNP faculty will lead you to bridge the gap between research and clinical practice through coursework, experiential engagement hours and a Doctor of Nursing Practice project. Choose Advanced Practice or Leadership concentrations to align your degree with your career goals.

Excel in Health Care Administration and Management

WilmU's MS in Management program recognizes the reality and challenging nature of contemporary health care systems, which require change and innovation to remain competitive. In courses that include Health Policy and Economics, Marketing in the Health Care Sector and Analysis of Decision-Making, the dual-degree program provides management practitioners with the scholastic depth and contemporary skills to meet the challenges of today's health care organizations.

Earn Your Degree Your Way

Forward-thinking in its flexibility, this program allows you to earn your degree 100% online. Wilmington University is nationally recognized for excellence in e-learning and exemplary online courses.
