

Financial Management in Human Services

Graduate Certificate

Today's human services leaders need a functional understanding of how their organizations' finances work in order to ensure their fiscal well-being and a solid return for stakeholders. While not intended to provide in-depth knowledge of the daily mechanics of financial operations, this 18-credit graduate-level certificate provides a solid foundational understanding of financial management for current and future human services professionals. The program also provides the tools they need to become comfortable with addressing their organizations' short- and long-term financial health and well-being. This program assumes no prior knowledge of finance or accounting.

Not only is this certificate a valuable standalone credential, but it can also be part of your personalized education path. Through Dual-Credit ADVANTAGE™, you can incorporate coursework from this certificate program into a WilmU MS in Human Services or MS in Professional Studies.
