MSN in Nursing Leadership

Learn, Lead and Inspire With the MSN in Nursing Leadership

Designed for professional nurses who seek expanded leadership roles, this program prepares you to influence health policy, take on advanced nursing practice in a variety of settings, and broaden your health care career mobility and earnings.

CCNE-Accredited Nursing Degree Aligns With Your Career Goals
Choose from four concentrations. Nurse Executive emphasizes health care policy as well as the entrepreneurial and management roles of the nurse leader. The Nurse Educator degree option prepares you to teach students, clients and staff in all settings. Legal Nurse Consultant teaches the expertise and critical-thinking skills necessary to assess health practices and standards in a legal setting. The Public Health concentration provides knowledge in public health essentials, epidemiology and population health so nurses can help build healthy communities and improve access to equitable health care for all.

Expert Instruction From Caring Nurse Leaders
Wilmington University faculty are veteran nurses and active practitioners who understand the challenge of balancing shift work, family and advanced education. The interdisciplinary nurse leadership degree curriculum is infused with hands-on experiences that put theory and research into innovative practice.

Flexible MSN Program Fits Your Life and Budget
The Nursing Leadership MSN combines rigorous academics with unparalleled flexibility and affordability. Choose in-person or 100% online options in accelerated seven-week block classes. WilmU's low in-state tuition rates are available to all students, regardless of their state of residence.
